Hazardous Waste

Flame UK, part of the Flame Business Services Group is one of the largest independent management companies within the waste and recycling markets, helping businesses across the country to manage their waste and recycling responsibly and cost effectively. Most businesses produce some hazardous waste streams, whether it's fluorescent tubes to ink toners to solvents and chemicals. If your business produces hazardous waste materials then these need to be collected outside of your waste and recycling service agreement. At Flame UK one of our professional experts will attend your premises and highlight the hazardous materials produced, complete a Hazardous Waste Consignment Note (HWN) in complying with the safe collection and disposal of the waste.
