Data driven decisions

At Flame UK, we know that business decisions are driven by data analysis and interpretation. Our data-driven approach enables us to align your company's environmental mission and goals with the right solution.

Detailed monthly reporting allows you to track each waste stream which not only means your company is compliant with regulations, but also contributes to cost control and informs your future decision-making.

- Unique reporting and data technology tracks waste movements to reduce your carbon footprint
- We can tell you exactly where your waste goes; how far it travels and how much is recycled
- Accurate data enables us to create a full closed-loop system for your waste management
- We can find the right solution to reducing your costs and CO2 emissions
- New technology enables us to minimise waste movements and create a zero-to-landfill system for your business.
